Target Date for 28 Projects In Hospitals Set

$22 Million In Improvements Slated For January 1

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — If everything goes according to plan —though nobody really believes it will — about 22 million dollars' worth of improvements could be completed at 17 mental hygiene and correction institutions by Jan. 1.

There are 28 projects, involved, and the Mental Hygiene-Correction Department said today that seven might be finished this month.

Nobody in the department's construction planning and equipment section really likes to come out and say a certain project will be completed by a specific date. Neither do State Public Works Department officials, for that matter.

The improvements program is large scale and long range. There are a lot of people and varying conditions involved. It doesn't take much to get off schedule.

At the moment, three other projects are virtually complete but still unaccepted by the Mental Hygiene - Correction Department. One is a 520-bed structure for care of aged persons at Cincinnati's Longview State Hospital. Minor adjustments are being made, but delivery of new beds has been held up, apparently because of the steel strike.

Department acceptance of a reception and intensive therapy unit at Cambridge State Hospital and the facilities at Zaleski Youth Camp, awaits relatively minor adjustments, too.

Part of the power plant at Lebanon Correctional Institution, construction of additional floors at Cleveland Receiving Hospital, medical-surgical units at Orient State Institute, the razing of two cottages at Girls' Industrial School near Delaware, and a parking lot at Toledo State Hospital are set tentatively for completion by the end of this month.

Sometime in October, a 200-bed patient building at Hawthornden State Hospital (Macedonia), additional power plant and security facilities at Lebanon, site development for three buildings at Hawthornden, and a 100-bed psychiatric treatment hospital at the Juvenile Diagnostic Center in Columbus may be ready.

OHIO RIVER-LAKE HIGHWAY was the topic of discussion Tuesday night at the Salem Golf Club between members of the Lake-River Highway Assn. and two highway department division chiefs following a dinner meeting. Discussing progress on the highway which will aid in bringing new industry and business into the eastern part of Ohio are (l. to r.) A. P. Morris, head of the Columbiana County Motor Club; Paul Kostyshak, chief engineer of Division 4 in Ravenna; William C. McKenna, chief engineer of Division 11 in New Philadelphia, and Francis H. Lang of East Liverpool, president of the association.

Project Not Dead, Engineers Say

River-Lake Road Progress Is Aired

If there has not been much publicity lately on the Ohio River - Lake Erie highway lately, it's not because the project is dead, chief engineers from Divisions 4 and 11 of the State Highway Dept. told the Lake - River Highway Assn. Tuesday night at a dinner meeting at the Golf Club.

Appraisals along the proposed right-of-way north from East Liverpool will be made starting Monday, William C. McKenna, head of Division 11 in New Philadelphia said. The work is expected to take about two weeks.

However, he added there is "no concrete evidence of when construction will begin." This small section of the highway, when constructed, will run north of East Liverpool to Rt. 170 and a temporary connection with Rt. 30 will be made.

Work in Ashtabula is also moving along on the proposed Rt. 11 which would connect Ashtabula, now an international harbor with the opening of the St. Lawrence Seaway, with the Ohio River port of East Liverpool, said Paul Kostyshak, boss of Division 4 in Ravenna. Both men were accompanied by chief assistants from their divisions.

Chest Drive Unit to Hurry Solicitations

The special gifts committee of the Community Chest Fund Drive is being urged by its co-chairmen to complete its canvass prior to the start of the general campaign Oct. 5.

The "special gifts" donations usually represent about 50 per cent of the total. Donors are being asked to increase their contributions this year since the drive failed to attain its quota in 1958, R. S. McCulloch and Walter F. Deming, special gifts committee co-chairmen, report.

This year's Chest goal is $61,295, the same as last year.

Other members of the special gifts committee are: F. W. McKee, G. B. Emeny, L. H. Colley, C. R. Haldi, J. H. Wilson, C. R. Conroy, C. H. Musser, R. S. McCulloch Jr.

L. M. Gordon, A. G. Tame, W. E. Young, G. W. Rogers, E. M. Stephenson, L. A. Bateman, R. Campbell, F. T. Cope.

Salem Will Remain On DST Until Oct. 25

Although several other area villages and towns will switch back to Eastern Standard Time next Sunday, Salem will keep in step with the major northeastern Ohio cities and turn the clocks back Oct. 25, the last Sunday in that month.

Living Cost Index Down From July

WASHINGTON (AP)—The cost of living edged down one-tenth of 1 per cent last month from July's record high, the Labor Department reported today.

A big seasonal drop in food prices, nine-tenths of 1 per cent, was solely responsible for halting the summer spurt of consumer prices.

Price tags were higher on virtually everything else making up the average city family's costs.

This was nine-tenths of 1 per cent higher than a year earlier. The figures mean it now takes nearly $1.25 to buy what cost a dollar in the years immediately after World War I.

In spite of the slight drop in costs, at least 125,000 workers will receive wage increases under cost-of-living escalator contracts which are adjusted quarterly.

Almost all food prices declined in August. Fresh fruits and vegetables, beef, pork and poultry showed the largest reduction.

'Full Treatment' Slated for U.S. Voter In '60

Foreign Policy, Pocketbook Loom As Campaign Planks

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American voter apparently is going to get the full treatment on everything from the pocketbook issue to foreign policy in the 1960 presidential campaign.

In the warmup phase of next year's contest for the White House, Sens. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex) and Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn) injected international policy into the battle Tuesday. Both are regarded as available for their party's top nomination in 1960.

Sen. Paul Douglas (D-Ill) accused an anti-inflation committee headed by Vice President Richard M. Nixon of engaging in propaganda instead of trying to find a cure for rising prices.

Sen. Prescott Bush (R-Conn), one of President Eisenhower's staunchest supporters, denied this and in turn accused Douglas of bringing politics into a Senate-House committee's inquiry into economic conditions.

Sen. Joseph S. Clark (D-Pa) said "'so'-called economizers'" are leeting America fall far behind in meeting the needs of the people for public services. In a speech at Danville, Pa., he proposed moves to expand the economy, close tax loopholes, curb tax evasion and to cut wasteful expenditures.

In a report to constituents, Sen. Hugh Scott (R-Pa) quoted Lord Macaulay that "a" government which attempts more than it ought will perform less." Scott said President Eisenhower's vetoes, "a militant Republicanminority" in Congress and "the outrage of the American people" had killed Democratic spending programs.

Johnson and Humphrey called for a positive program in the cold war battle with communism. They made it clear they do not think the Eisenhower administration is providing such a program.

Johnson's remarks were in a speech prepared for a Galveston, Tex., audience. But in addressing the group he chose instead to talk of the U.S. visit of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

He said Khrushchev is an "able and deceitful" leader who is "after us," but added: "Some good will come out of this visit of Mr. Khrushchev. It will help us keep our feet on the ground."

Humphrey told a Nassau County, N.Y., Democratic county convention his party can win in 1960 if it identifies itself with peace, economic progress and civil rights.

Youth Dance Set Here for Saturday

Attendance at the dances is limited to students of the sixth through ninth grades, Tomlinson said.

Girls and boys are required to be neatly dressed — girls in skirts and blouses or dresses and boys in pressed trousers and sports shirts or dress shirts and ties, with coats optional. Rugged Day Faces Soviet Premier

Khrushchev Visits Iowa Corn Farmer

DES MOINES (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, facing another rugged day in his jet-propelled tour of the United States, is showing signs of wear.

Obviously dogtired, but stubbornly beaming, the No. 1 world Communist seems visibly to be slowing down.

Khrushchev's demeanor Tuesday night at a civic dinner in his honor and his facial expression reflected happiness at his Iowa reception, almost to the point of being benign.

But for the first time, Khrushchev did no off-the-cuff speaking. And for the first time, he did not even read his own speech. The interpreter did it for him, in English. As Khrushchev stood by listening, his eyes closed occasionally as if from deep fatigue. He seemed pale.

As plans went forward to receive the Soviet leader at the Roswell Garst farm near Coon Rapids today, Khrushchev's aides were understood to be trying to dissuade him from trying to pack in too much activity.

A change in schedule had been suggested so that he could get out early and see more details of Iowa farm life before leaving later in the day for Iowa State University at Ames.

For Khrushchev, the speech delivered to the civic dinner was the most mild of pronouncements in comparison with his other blasts along the route of his American tour.

The prepared text called upon Americans to enter into competition with Soviets in agriculture, instead of in the manufacture of weapons of mass production.

Khrushchev assured his audience his proposal for complete disarmament, placed before the United Nations General Assembly Friday, was aimed solely at securing a lasting peace among nations.

Wandered From Father's Car

Carrollton Tot Missing 16 Hours Found Safe

A 21-month-old Carrollton area girl was found about 10 this morning by a horseback rider, ending an all-night search for her by approximately 600 persons.

The hunt for the toddler, who walked away from her father's auto which was parked outside a shaft mine near Carrollton, was called off when Bruce Finnicun, 16, of Carrollton, discovered her sitting in a corn field.

"We searched that field pretty good Tuesday night, but we missed her," a highway patrolman said after the girl was found. "She must have been there all the time.

Sylvia Stevan was unharmed except for scratches, the State Highway Patrol reported after examining the child. She lives on the family farm on Rt. 39, about three miles southwest of Carrollton.

Sylvia's adventure started after her father, Max, left her sleeping in his car Tuesday evening while he worked awhile in a shed near a mine. The area, a hilly section of eastern Ohio, is honeycombed with abandoned shaft mines.

Apparently Sylvia woke up between 6 and 8, discovered her father was gone and then went looking for him. When he returned, the girl was missing.

The Carrollton County Sheriff's office was notified and the search started.

With the advent of darkness, the 200-odd highway patrolmen, auxiliary police, sheriff's deputies and volunteers lined up arm-to - arm and tramped through the area surrounding the car. They were worried that the girl might have entered one of the abandoned mines.

Searchers who stayed at the site all night rested near the auto. At the crack of dawn the party moved out across the hilly countryside again.

When Sylvia was located sitting in the corn field this morning, she had been wandering for 16 hours.

Father Watches Helplessly As Twelve Perish

Ten Children, Wife, Brother Mishap Victims

MUNISING, Mich. (AP)—"They wanted to get in the same boat because it would be more fun."

A bewildered father — the only survivor of a boating accident that took the lives of his wife, 10 children and his brother — was too grief-stricken for tears as he described the tragedy to state police.

'I was very confused — it all happened so suddenly," said Leonard Larson, 42, as the bodies were brought ashore from Lake McKeever in Upper Michigan's Hiawatha National Forest Tuesday.

The family, on a day's outing to pick wild cranberries, had piled into a 12-foot outboard motorboat. It capsized 40 feet from shore. None could swim. The father saved himself by climbing atop the overturned boat.

Helpless, he saw his wife, children and his brother, Harry, 64, go down in water so clear the bodies could be seen 15 feet down.

All the Larsons' children but the oldest daughter, Doris May, 16, were along. She was attending high school in Marquette.

Leonard Larson is a sawmill worker in the little lumbering town of Skandia, 30 miles from the scene of the tragedy.

The children were out of classes because the village school was closed for the day for repairs.

The boat belonged to the uncle, a bachelor, who helped care for some of the children at his home and was always included in the family circle. The uncle also worked at the sawmill.

The victims were the mother, Dora Larson, 41; the uncle, and the children — Arthur, 15; Shirley, 13; Harry, 10; Marlene, 9; Freddie, 8; Carol 7; Robert, 6; Mary Ann, 5; Melody, 4, and Terry Lee, 5 months.

GRANGE TO HEAR TALK

WEST POINT—Dr. Peter Cibula of Lisbon will be the guest speaker at the meeting Friday of West Point Grange at the hall. Master Martin will preside.

SEARCHING FOR MISSING GIRL Tuesday night and this morning were law enforcement officers from the state, county and city as approximately 600 persons probed the hilly country of eastern Ohio near Carrollton for 21-month-old Sylvia Stevano. Columbiana County Bloodhound "Tex" was unable to pick up the trail because the area was too dry to hold the girl's scent, police said.

How to Get the Best Education For Your Child

Many College Careers Ruined By Attacks of Homesickness

This is the thirteenth of 15 articles, condensed from the book, "How To Get the Best Education for Your Child," written by the former education editor of the New York Times and his wife, an educator herself.

By DR. BENJAMIN FINE And LILLIAN FINE

Their college days are busy and full, but they still love to hear from home.

When your college-bound youngster leaves home, try to keep the farewells as relaxed and cheerful as possible.

Homesickness probably has ruined more college careers than any other cause. Letters and phone calls from the family are usually a great help. A subscription to a home town newspaper has been effective in many cases.

Most colleges ask freshmen to be on campus a few days or a week early to receive "orientation" information and to get acquainted with the grounds. Then comes registration.

Unless carefully briefed, the freshman may feel bewildered by all the courses offered. If he has already decided on a profession, he is seldom allowed more than one or two electives.

UNLESS HE FEELS quite certain that he wants to enter a particular profession, he is probably better off taking a liberal arts course. A board, general background of information will always be useful.

After the easy pace of high school, many students find it hard to adjust to college. College textbooks as a rule are much harder than high school books. Students are often shocked at the length of their reading assignments. If they coast for a few days, they may suddenly find themselves a hundred pages or more behind!

Most colleges issue warnings at mid-semester to students who seem likely to fail the course. Parents should be alert to that possibility. A student who receives a warning should make an appointment to discuss it with the instructor.

SOME BOYS AND GIRLS are so eager to be popular and have fun that they try to take part in almost every extracurricular activity. Parents should advise against such excess; it is almost certain to have a bad effect on scholastic work.

What about automobiles? A car can, of course, add greatly to the convenience and enjoyment of college life. In most cases, however, the college student is probably better off without one.

All through college, but especially in the first year, parental encouragement and advice can do a great deal to help youngsters succeed. Every few weeks a new problem looms.

What about sororities and fraternities or clubs: Some youngsters suffer terribly if they are not "pledged" to a leading organization.

Fraternities and sororities have undoubtedly helped many students gain self-confidence ad leadership experience. They have also left lasting scars on the personalities of those they rejected.

WHAT CAN BE DONE for the boy or girl who, after a year or two, is definitely unhappy and not getting much out of college?

First, the parents and the youngster himself should try to find out why he is unhappy. Is it the college or the individual? Some people are unhappy wherever they find themselves. If this seems to be the case, your youngster may need expert counseling.

In a good many cases, however, the fault is not with the youngster. He may be competing with highly intelligent students and be out of his depth. Or he may be bored because of the low intellectual capacity of his fellow students. And let us admit it, there are some colleges where the general atmosphere seems to be cold.

There are many conditions under which a student is quite justified in seeking a transfer. With a good scholastic record a student can usually make a transfer in his freshman or sophomore year. It may be expensive however.

WHAT ABOUT THE BOY or girl who for scholastic reasons is asked not to return? This is a severe blow both to the youngster and his family, but there is no use scolding. Instead, make him feel you are standing by him.

Students who have failed in one college are not exactly welcomed with open arms by other colleges. Nevertheless, it is often possible to arrange a transfer.

Parents can sometimes persuade a college to give their son or daughter another chance. The situation is almost never hopeless. It is up to the parents to keep encouraging and keep searching for the right opportunity.

It is important to remember that the freshman in college is vulnerable. In a way, he is back in first grade again. Everything is strange and rather frightening, but this time he is not able to run to his mother's arms for comfort.

FOR ANYONE in a state of even mild anxiety, financial worries and feelings of financial guilt are a real torture. Yet many parents constantly talk about what it is costing to send their children to college.

No matter how carefully you budget, it is probably going to cost you more than you expected to send your children to college. This is not their fault. Most college-age people will be sensible and will try to keep expenses down if they have a clear picture of their family's financial condition.

Before a youngster goes to college there should be a full and free discussion of the family's obligation to him. He should know how much is available for his expenses and how much has to go to pay the rent or the mortgage, the food bill, and other expenses.

After that, money should not be a major topic of discussion and reprimands.

SOME PARENTS constantly criticize the courses and subject matter their children study in college. "What good is that going to do you?" They ask.

Such criticism cannot do any possible good. If you really have a sensible reason for your disapproval, you should advise your youngster to go to another institution.

Even on graduation day the parents' work is not done. They still need to urge their young hopefuls to keep on studying and reading.

NEXT: What you should seek.

There's Less Money to Borrow

It's Your Pocketbook

By FAYE HENLE
NEA Staff Writer

An old-time slogan of the thrift men is that you've got to save in order to spend. Never in the recent past has this been as true as it is today.

Whether it is a house or a house dress, many dollars of financing have been needed to achieve the end product If the buider or the manufacturer had been unable to get those dollars they could not have made the product available to you. When builders stop building and manufacturers stop manufacturing, joblessness rises. Men and women unemployed are more reluctat to spend. Perhaps they won't be spending for the product or service YOU sell.

Is this happening today? We are enjoying something of a boom. And if you've studied the economic indicators — those selected statistics of building starts, hours of work, disposable income and such that the economists use to protect the timetable of economic cycles — you will know that these indicators proclaim that we are just about in the middle of this boom, meaning that the prosperity we enjoy might well continue for another 12 months.

BUT THERE IS NOTHING in the economic books to promise that what happened in the past will also happen in the future. Right now something that hasn't happeed for a long time is happening: we are running out of money. By we I don't mean just you and me, although this might be true. I mean the banks. This has been caused in measure by the Federal Reserve Board's policy of making money less available in their fight against inflation.

Thus far figures from commercial banks show larger declines in excess reserves, i.e., money available for borrowing. Manufacturers and big businesses are the ones that borrow heavily from these banks although they are also a source of our installment credit. Builders and consumers, on the other hand, depend heavily upon savings institutions for the money they need.

During July, total deposits in the nation's 512 mutual savings banks showed a drop of 54 million dollars. This, I'm told, is greater than the normal seasonal decline. During the second quarter of this year — yes, when business was booming — savings bank deposits rose by only 5 per cent compared with the previous year while the money that you and I took out showed a whopping 19 per cent gain.

AT THE NATION'S Savings and Loan institutions, the estimated withdrawals in July rose to 2.5 billion dollars against 1.5 billion in June and 2.1 billion in July of 1958 to record one of the heaviest withdrawal periods in years, while deposits were an estimated 300 million dollars less than in June and 100 million dollars less than in July of 1958.

The money that finances home building comes largely from these savings institutions. If we continue to withdraw in vast amounts that money for new building just won't be there. The healthy volume of construction which pulled us out of the 1958 recession could fade fast and plunk us into a 1960-61 doldrum.

Watch your spending. Right now 12 per cent of disposable income is going into installment buying, against but 7 per cent a decade ago. If you want to have the goods around to spend for, you've also got to save.

2 Local Men Win Stamp Show Awards

Two local men, Nathan Harris and Dick Howell, won second and third place ribbons, respectively, for their displays in the stamp show held recently at the Butler Institute of American Art in Youngstown. The major R.V.C. Carr Trophy went to Arno Kmebett of Canfield.

Michael J. Devine of Boardman and Mr. Harris were co-chairmen of the annual affair sponsored by the Mahoning Valley Stamp Club.

Mr. Harris donated a plaque as a junior award in memory of the late J. O. Hagedorn, a former member of the Mahoning Valley Club and the Salem stamp and Coin Club, who was active in club activities throughout the state and who was especially interested in junior members of the orgnizations. Mrs. Hagedorn made the presentation to the winner, William Woytowich of Youngstown.

A number of Salem people attended the event along with club members from Columbiana, East Palestine and western Pennsylvania.

The Mahoning Valley Club convenes at 8 p.m. on the second and fourth Thursday of each month in the assembly room of the South Side Branch of the Union National Bank, Market St. and Florida Ave., Youngstown.

The local Stamp and Coin Club holds its regular meetings at 8 p.m. on the first and third Wednesday of each month in the Memorial Building.

Boy Scout Council To Send 40 to National Jamboree

Plans to organize a contingent of about 40 Boy Scouts, Explorers and adult leaders to attend the fifth national jamboree at Clorado Springs, Colo., next July, were reported today by the Columbiana Council, Boy Scouts of America.

The appointment of the council's jamboree committee headed by Calvin Filler of Salem was announced jointly by A. P. Schmauch of Salem, president of the Columbiana Council, and Del Bailey of Columbiana, chairman of the council's 50th anniversary committee.

About 50,000 boys and leaders will attend the national jamboree.

The county's contingent will visit the nation's leading cities and scenic spots en route to and from the camp, Filler said. Railroads, buses and airlines will provide special rates for jamboree groups.

The jamboree camp will comprise 2,000 acres of the ranch of Mr and Mrs. J E. Johnson near the Air Force Academy. The scouts will be camping "a mile high," within sight of Pike's Peak.

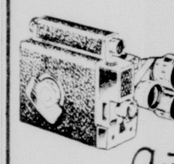

Any Boy Scout who will be at least 12 years of age by Jan. 1, and any Explorer who will have had at least three months' service by next July 15, are eligible for the trip. Application forms will be available at the office of the Columbiana Council, in Lisbon, Filler said.

Six applications have already been received at the council's office. The deadline for applications is Oct. 15.

The Inevitable 'Coy Period' Is Here

Presidential politics has entered its quadrennial "coy period."

That is the time that generally starts in the last half of the year preceding a presidential election year and lasts until the national conventions have chosen their parties' standard-bearers.

It is the time when everybody who has a ghost of a chance to be President acts like he really wants to be but won't come right out and say so. Simultaneously, everybody who has the faintest voice in saying who will be President acts like he is pulling all available strings but won't come right out and admit it.

Some current examples:

NEW YORK Gov. Nelson Rockefeller entertains delegations from early-primary New Hampshire but says the press of business at home won't let him make a decision on whether to enter the primary until after the first of the year.

MASSACHUSETTS Sen. John Kennedy travels about the country making speeches and paying courtesy calls on important politicians but says he doesn't know whether he will make a run for it until after the first of the year.

OHIO Gov. Mrichael V. DiSalle leaves no doubt in anybody's mind that he wants to contol his state's delegation to the Democratic National Convention but says he can't make up his mind about a favorite-son candidacy until around the first of the year.

THE "COY PERIOD" is very trying for the citizens who must make the final presidential choice at the polling booths. Consequently, they tend to get irked at the thinly veiled playing-hard-to-get tactics of the politicians.

But the thing they should try to remember, if they want to understand the way their political system works, is that the "coy period" is very trying for the politicians, too.

Mr. DiSalle pointed this out at his press conference in Canton a few weeks ago when he said he didn't think he and fellow politicians were really trying to be coy at all.

There are many important factors involved in these things, he said, and they all have to be weighed carefully before a man formally makes his move.

Thus, Gov. Rockefeller really does have to attend to his present job lest he leave himself open to the politically fatal criticism that he is running for promotion when he should be running New York.

And Sen. Kennedy has to travel about sounding out political opinion lest he find out too late that his ghost of a chance was just that—a ghost.

And Gov. DiSalle has to wait for his party's state chairman to determine whether he can command the loyalty of enough grass roots Democratic leaders to squelch the bid of Clevelander Ray T. Miller for control of the convention votes.

TO VIEW THE PROBLEM from the other side, consider the fact that the politician who tries to skip the "coy period" by opening up early and announcing that he is running for President is almost never heard from again. There are some examples of this, too, but we can't remember their names.

Besides, like so many other irksome political practices, the "coy period" serves a useful function for the voters. By turning the spotlight and the pressure on the presidential possibilities — many of whom may not have national reputations — it gives people a chance to get to know a bit about the men they will have to choose between for a four-year leader.

So the "coy period" is pretty much like the common cold. There is no cure for it. Everybody — candidates and voters — just has to suffer through it with the confidence that summer will clear the darned thing up.

Quick Response To The Labor Law

Labor union leaders and their political supporters who bitterly fought enactment of the new Landrum-Griffin labor reform law on the grounds that there was no need for it may find themselves eating crow earlier than anybody expected they would.

Almost before the ink of President Eisenhower's signature on the law was dry, an insurgent faction of Ohio Local 18 of the Operating Engineers complained that rights guaranteed to them by the statute had been violated.

The rebels in Local 18 have been carrying on a running fight with some of their official leaders for a log time. Probably as a result of their efforts, the president they accused of using dictatorial tactics has resigned, although he still holds the powerful post of general business representative.

AND IT SHOULD not be overlooked that the insurgents' recent complaint under the new reform measure was directed in part against the man who succeeded the former president.

It is not for us to say whether the Local 18 complaint is justified. That must be decided according to the "due process" provided for in the law.

The significance lies in the fact that if the complaint is justified, the dissident rank-and-file members now have a stronger local tool than ever before to use in seeking a remedy.

And if the members of one local of one union in one state were ready to invoke the provisions of the new law when it was less than a day old, it certainly is not far-fetched to assume that thousands of union members in hundreds of locals throughout the nation have similarly been waiting for statutory ammunition in battles against overbearing officials.

OF SIGNIFICANCE also is the fact that the majority of these dissidents are not against unionism. They recognize the support the benefits that honest, sincere organiged labor can accrue both for its members and the economy in which it operates.

And that is what they are usually fighting for. In too many cases they have learned from bitter experience how few real benefits accrue from dishonest, insincere labor groups organized for the advancement of a few unscrupulous union bosses.

Whatever the outcome of the first complaint under the new measure's provisions, the Landrum-Griffin law is obviously going to prove the necessity for its existence far quicker than perhaps even its authors dreamed.

Paint Panacea

A chemical company has announced the introduction of a new substance to take the work out of cleaning paint brushes.

According to the publicity puff, the product not only sweeps away paint, varnish and lacquer, but is non-inflammable, gives off no dangerous vapors and is completely safe for human skin tissue.

We wonder if the company hasn't missed the boat in the market it is appealing to. The stuff sounds like the panacea les belles femmes have been waiting for to remove their "war paint" quickly at the end of the day.

Brief Respite – If

There is at least one thing Nikita Khrushchev's visit to the United States is accomplishing: For its duration, Americans can rest assured that no Soviet missiles will come zooming across the oceans to detroy them.

Unless, that is, a Malenkov, Bulganin or Molotov manages to get to one of the trigger buttons.

Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Khrushchev having seen Hollywood producing "C'an-Can," encountered American labor leaders, met up with California "'sm'o'g," got caught in Dodgers-Giant pennant belt and felt the fierce power of our guided-toastmasters. At the Roswell Garst farm he will find the corn far below the California type. (Coon Rapids grows it taller but any California master of ceremonies produces it thicker.)

Hollywood, we hear, made Khrushchev offers for the movie rights to the moon. Iowa visit will prove a relief to Nikita from banquet hall food and give him some home cooking, including ham and eggs country style. But apple pie with breakfast may be declared an aggressive act.

Coon Rapids is in high state of excitement. Even the cows are emotionally disturbed. Not a cow ever dreamt a Soviet chief would over cross Iowa borders, even if all he wanted was milk.

Roswell Garst is bearing it well but the bigg t group of photographers, correspondents and detectives ever to besiege a cornfield have the farm surrounded. The photographers alone are sufficient to blot out any view of the Garst cornfield and Roswell has already cried, "I't"s all very well to protect Khrushchev but who protects my farm?"

We got the script of the imaginary dialogue as Roswell and the Soviet chief met:

Garst: Welcome, and I'm happy to see you interested in corn.

K: I am for coexistence between the corn and noncorn world. The Soviet Union stands for peace, bigger corn cobs and a more scientific disposal of corn shucks, probably on the moon.

Garst: What would you like to see first?

K: Your idle steel mills.

Garst: They're in Pittsburgh, not here.

K: On a hectic trip like this I get confused.

Garst: I don't see how you could get confused on corn.

K: If you'd endured all the corn I have, speech by speech, you would understand.

THE RECEPTION to Khrush has been so cool so far that he should have brought atomic icebreaker with him.

Harry Truman, commenting on delinquency, hit the nail on the head with the statement, "A'merica has been sparing the rod and spoiling the child for two generations. We are now preventing school teacjers from getting discipline from kids."

The stock market took a tumble, maybe because specialists didn't like the moon outlook. (Our broker called the moon episode a "'bear" raid). Telescope industry should be a beneficiary.

We wonder if, when in the Waldorf, Khrushchef asked to see the rooms in which Gen. MacArthur, Herbert Hoover, Duke and Duchess of Windsor, Harry Truman and Elsa Maxwell once slept.

We still can't figure out why the committee for the Khrushchev luncheon at the Waldorf didn't put a sign in the banquet hall, held by dentists, "Y'A'N'KS' Go Home."

Will the moon take its case to the U.N.? Its borders were violated. Yeah, but Russia will say the moon hit it first. It might even claim that the Man in the Moon is a tool of Wall Street.

Dag Hammarskjold is reported worried. He thinks that if the moon takes its case to the U.N. he may be sent to it as a conciliator.

Since We're Comparing Notes . . .

Study In Organized Chaos

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nikita Khrushchev's expedition around the United States is almost a study in organized chaos — on both sides.

The Soviet Premier has admitted he is thin-skinned: "I can never stand it when somebody steps on my pet corn without giving a worthy reply." Yet, by bragging and boasting, he stuck out his neck, or rather his foot with the corn.

He apparently even came over here expecting to be heckled.

At the Economic Club dinner in New York he said: "Naturally when a live Communist appears in such distinguished company, there is a great interest in him; to look at him; to hear him; and, if he has a tail, to pull at his tail."

But, when he got his tail pulled, he hollered ouch Although it was clear from what he said in New York that he expected just that. This foreknowledge of what to expect makes his temper-tantrums harder to understand.

The State Department's enormous plans for him were long on police protection against an assassin's bullet but woefully short on saving him from embarassing jibes and needling.

But even in this problem of arrangements Khrushchev, and to a greater extent the Soviet Embassy here, must take some of the responsibility for the unpleasantness which occurred since they agreed to the plans.

For example: Khrushchev agreed to meet with Walter Reuther and other American labor leaders. From the very inception of this idea the meeting was going to be a bull-baiting tournament. Anyone could have predicted it.

But when it turned out that way, Khrushchev got sore. He certainly didn't think he was going to play spin-the-bottle with Reuther and his friends.

They wanted to show him how anti-Communist American workers were. They probably did nothing of the kind. A Communist like Khrushchev probably makes a sharp distinction between labor leaders and the masses of workers.

Reuther said Khrushchev called him a capitalistic stooge. Why the surprise at that? Khrushchev and his friends no doubt consider all union leaders to be secret management men whose job is to keep down workers' wages.

Khrushchev himself started the general irritation a moment after he landed here with his boasting and bragging, a line he has pursued throughout his trip.

With President Eisenhower standing beside him — and the whole world aware that only two days before the U.S.S.R. had hit the moon — Khrushchev read a prepared statement at the airport boasting about the moonshot.

This hit a sour note from the start. You might call it poor taste. But it certainly was a clumsy entrance.

Then at one gathering after another — here, in New York, in California — Khrushchev bragged of Soviet progress, of the moonshot, the new Soviet atomic icebreaker. He predicted repeatedly the U.S.S.R. would surpass the United States.

When a man keeps hitting his hosts over the head with this kind of crowing — even though he is a guest — he can expect some sharp reactions. There's a limit to it, and Khrushchev overdid it.

At the same time he is a guest. Some of the questions flung at him at Washington's National Press club and elsewhere — and particularly the curt and needling treatment he got from Mayor Norris Poulson of Los Angeles — seemed rude, unnecessary and, as Khrushchev said, using one of his favorite words, provocative.

The State Department—instead of meticulous effort with state and city officials to handle him carefully and avoid heckling and snide digs — seemed to concentrate on police protection.

At the same time Khrushchev sounded phony when he complained publicly about the extent of his police protection, particularly when he whimpered about not getting to Disneyland.

His own security officers had a hand in the police arrangements. And he knew that it wasn't safe for him, in a country with many violent anti-Communists, to walk the streets unguarded.

Mighty Mites

By ROBERT BRANSON

Soviet bodyguards accompanying Nikita Khrushchev are packing small, powerful weapons of a type unfamiliar to U.S. security agents.

The miniature revolvers appear to be about .25 caliber, it was revealed by Elmer Hipsley, Chief of the U.S. State Department security police traveling with Khrushchev.

"They look something like what we call a banker's special," he said. "I got a look when we were talking arrangements over with the Russians. One had a shoulder holster and another fellow had a hip holster."

Hipsley said the odd-looking Russian weapons aroused his curiosity but he did not feel like asking to inspect them.

American agents of the FBI, Secret Service and Hipsley's State Department force all carry .38s. Revolvers are used instead of automatics because the automatic has a habit of jamming at times.

Russia is known to have perfected way of compressing great lethal power into tiny firearms. In 1955, for instance, when Soviet espionage agent Kikolai Khoklov reneged on an assassination assignment in West Germany and defected to American officials, he was armed with a Soviet-built gun resembling a pack of cigarettes.

Hipsley said Khrushchev's strongarm men made no agreement to give up their firearms. But they did agree, he said, that primary responsibility for tour security in this country rests with Americans.

This means that if any shooting is necessary, the Russians would hold their fire and let the Americans act first. Such an agreement is customary on state visits to ensure that agents of two countries don't start firing at once, perhaps setting up disastrous crossfire.

Hipsley, 46 years old, an auburn-haired giant who weighs 240 and wears hornrims and a mustache, heads a crack security detail whose total size is secret.

The number of Soviet bodyguards with Khrushchev is six. Three of them have been described as major wheels in the Soviet security setup. These three are:

Vladimir P. Burdin, 37, who speaks fluent English, dresses like an American movie star and is rumored to be chief of the American section of the Soviet Foreign Intelligence Directorate.

Maj. Gen. Nikolai Zakharov, 50, former deputy minister of foreign affairs in Latvia who has risen fast in security and intelligence ranks at the Kremlin. He helped map security plans for the Nixon trip to Russia.

Vasily F. Grubyakov, 48, said to have served as an intelligence officer in Turkey before World War II while posing as a Soviet embassy press officer. More recently he served with the Soviet mission to the United Nations.

Hipsley said he could not provide the names of the three others on Khrushchev's six-man protection squad.

Praise for Coalition

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Real Story of Last Congress Session

The real story of what happened at the last session of Congress somehow isn't being told. Republicans claim credit for important laws passed and sound fiscal policies upheld. Democrats argue that they, too, kept the spending down.

David Lawrence

The usual flood of statements "pointing with pride" or "viewing with alarm" has been issued. What is the fundamental truth?

The fact is that neither party can claim credit for the achievements, nor can either party be blamed for the failures.

For there is no way of fixing responsibility in an irresponsible government such as America has today.

When the American people a year ago November voted into Congress enough Democrats from the Northern states to give that party a two-thirds majority, because the South always elects Democrats, the nation was told that the Democratic party had obtained "control."

Yet the White House continued in the hands of the Republican party.

Divided government spells irresponsibility. The national legislature and the executive are always of the same party in any system of responsible government.

ACTUALY on every important measure of a highly controversial nature it was the Republicans in coalition with the Southern Democrats who gave the nation some of the constructive legislation just passed.

It was the Southern bloc which helped to keep government spending down.

When Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas and Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas talk in their political statements about the way the Democrats held the line on expenditures, this wasn't any action on the part of the Democratic party as a whole. It was a combination with Republicans in both houses that did it.

Actually, if the Democrats from the North, instead of such champions of moderation as Messrs. Johnson and Rayburn, had been allowed to run the Democratic party in Congress and dominate its committee chairmanships, the budget would have been grossly unbalanced.

The conservative coalition saved the country from disaster at the last session of Congress. Had the Northern Democrats been given their way, the confidence of the business would would have been shaken, prices would be skyrocketing today, and the increased inflation would have further diminished the purchasing power of the dollar.

President Eisenhower, as is customary after every session, sums up the case and bestows praise for good things done and expresses satisfaction that certain bad things were not done.

But Mr. Eisenhower didn't fail to put his finger on the crux of the problem when he said in his formal statement last weekend:

"I pay my respects to those among the political opposition without whose cooperation our efforts against extravagance and legislative excesses would have been in vain. These men, though subjected to severe party pressures, had the conviction and courage to stand up and be counted on issue after issue basic to the welfare of the nation. Sincerely I congratulate them for their good work for America this session."

THIS IS but another way of saying that conservatives stood together against "radicals" or "liberal spenders."

The South, which is the stronghold of conservatism, spared the nation the excesses that a radical wing of the Demoratic party would have enacted. But it is to be noted that there isn't a majority always for conservative positions.

The important fact, on the other hand, is that there is no two-thirds majority for radicalism and, as long as that's true, a presidential veto can prevent a simply majority from enacting undesirable laws.

The President was gracious in his praise, too, for those Democrats who abandoned partisanship on foreign affairs, even though they didn't go along with the administration on domestic questions. He said:

"Next I acknowledge, as I have each year, my appreciation to those members of both parties who have approached in a bipartisan manner most of the matters important to the nation's security and the conduct of foreign relations.

"To this standard of being Americans first and Democrats or Republicans second when the nation's safety and world peace are involved, all of us must steadfastly adhere. I am gratified that so many have done so."

These accomplishments are due also to no small extent to the effective role of leadership played by the President.

WHEN ALL IS SAID and done, a catastrophe in Congress has been averted in recent months only by the fact that a man who had the confidence of the people of the United States is in the White House Public opinion still rules.

One shudders to think, however, what may happen to the economic position of the United States at home and abroad if presidential leadership should falter in the next several years — that is, if the radical wing of the Democratic party, not only gets a big majority in Congress but elects to the White House a candidate holding its ideological beliefs.

The issue in the 1960 campaign might well point up the direct challenge presented by radicalism and fiscal irresponsibility.

The Democrats in the South will continue conservative, but in the North the voters are about evenly divided between Republicans and Democrats. It is in the primaries of both parties, therefore, where the battle should be fought so that non-radicals will be elected to Congress irrespective of the party label.

Bull Market Has It Rough

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Is Wall Street's 10-year-old bull suffering from senility? Or is he just resting under a buttonwood tree till the current business uncertainties are cleared up?

The bull market has had a rough time of it since early August. Stock traders are nervous and many of the nation's 12 million stockholders have seen some of their paper profits trimmed.

There have been other slippery periods like the last seven weeks since the bull makert got underway in 1949. And each time it has regained its feet and climbed higher. So the bullish minded say it will gain, as soon as the uncertainties are fathomed.

These are: How long the steel strike will last and how much damage it will do; Whether the cold war will thaw and defense spending be cut and taxes, too; Whether tight money will slow down business expansion and consumer spending.

The bulls think business activity will spurt with the end of the strike. They think corporate earnings will increase in the final months of the year and dividends push up to record highs.

The bears-and they are numerous if less vocal-aren't so sure. They think the important thing is what kind of a steel strike settlement and when-and the after effects on business and prices.

They think the recovery from the recession was topping out even before the strike.

They think the official tight money policy is sure to put a brake on economic growth and hence on earnings. They hold that the tight money policy may halt further inflation and thus cut the ground out from under those who advocate common stocks as a hedge against it.

And they think cold war tensions will keep everyone guessing for a long time yet.

But their chief argument is the price of stocks themselves. Bears hold that some stocks have been bid up so high that it will be a long time before the companies can earn enough to justify them.

The cautious point to the yields of stocks as compared to bonds. They note that when the bull market started in 1949 top grade common stocks were yielding 7 per cent on average and now only 3 per cent. Yield means the return in dividends you get on the amount money you spend for a stock. In the same period the yield of top grade corporate bonds went from 2.7 per cent to 5 per cent. Some government bonds can be bought at prices that yield 5 per cent on the money.

This makes bonds look better than stocks to many investors.

Whether the bulls or the bears are right, here is the box score on what has been happening to stock prices:

On August 3 the Associated Press price index of 60 common stocks reached a record high of 235.8 Last Friday it closed at 217.4. This wasn't much above the 215.8 at which it started the year a record at that time, too.

The 30 industrial stocks in the index touched a record high of 355.6, also on August 3, and closed Friday at 325.7, compared with 313.9 at the start of the year.

On Reducing

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Can you lose up to 40 pounds in 90 days without using drugs?

Can you do it without feeling starved, without losing your strength or sense of humor, without feeling sorry for yourself?

You can indeed. You're listening to an ex-fatty who just did it.

All you need is the right incentive. A fat man with the right incentive can do anything. I had a real good incentive.

The truth was I weighed a record 217 pounds.

One of my bosses remarked scornfully:

"Fat men have no willpower. Fifty bucks says you can't take off 30 pounds in 90 days."

That did it! I had my incentive, an incentive greater than personal vanity.

"You've got a bet," I told the boss.

There is no secret about losing weight. I went to a good old-fashioned doctor.

Handing me a standard diet, he said: "Follow this. Exercise sensibly. Take a couple of vitamin pills a day. Cut your liquor intake to two highballs a day, but don't take any medicines. You don't need them."

"Well, Doc," I said, "two drinks a day is taking medicine—for it sure ain't drinking."

So I went on the wagon altogether, and within three days was enjoying the taste of water—straight.

The diet was simplicity itself. I cut out all sweet desserts.

I all but cut out butter, corn, beans—except string beans—and had potatoes just once a week. I limited myself to a piece of rye or whole wheat bread a day. If I ate a sandwich for lunch, the next day I did without bread.

I cut my usual portions in half, and concentrated on lean meat, eggs, cottage cheese and filled up on plenty of raw and cooked green and yellow vegetables.

Mild exercise is the best way to cure your restlessness when you're on a diet—or any other time. I bowled and swam some, but walking is the ideal exercise in the city.

The first week I walked a mile a day, then gradually stepped it up. On weekends I got up to seven or eight miles. Solitary walking can be a great joy. You learn the trees, the store window sights and the people in your town as you can in no other way. One tip: In the city be sure to wear rubber-heeled shoes.

Strangely, I felt exhilarated rather than depressed most of the time. Only once did I break my diet to eat a chocolate sundae. I felt as guilty as if I'd robbed the church poor box, and never was tempted again.

The pounds came off in fits and spurts—six the first week, none the next, some weeks 2 to 5. On the 90th day I had a surgeon friend ready to amputate a leg if necessary—anything to keep from losing to the boss!

But the scales said 177 pounds. I had taken off not 30 pounds, but about 40. The boss forked over a $50 bill.

There's one other reward. They told me that if I slimmed down I'd have the girls in the office standing in line. I do, too. But all they whisper in my ears is: "What's your secret, skinny? I'd like to lose a little myself."

The incentive is the secret. Bet the boss!

Mrs. Patrick Francis Dolan

Miss Teddie Pase Married To Patrick Francis Dolan

The marriage of Miss Teddie Kay Pase and Patrick Francis Dolan took place Friday at 7:30 p.m. in Westville Congregational Christian Church.

The Rev. Rolland C. Smith officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. T. V. Pase of RD 2, Beloit are the bride's parents. The bridegroom is a son of Mrs. F. E. Berletich of Alliance.

Tapers in two seven-branch candelabra lighted the altar which was banked with greenery and enhanced by twin vases of white carnations and gladioli. Bows marked the pews on the bridal aisle.

Mrs. James Cuebas of Cleveland, a cousin of the bride, sang "Because," "I Love Thee" and "The Lord's Prayer." Mrs. Norman Barnett of Sebring was organist.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her gown was fashioned of Chantilly lace and pleated tulle. The long-sleeved bodice was embroidered with pearls and sequins, and the bouffant skirt over taffeta extended into a chapel train. Pearls and sequins also trimmed the cap which held her veil of silk illusion. She carried a bouquet of white carnations and stephanotis on a white Bible, and she wore a pearl necklace, a gift from the bridegroom.

Miss Linda Stoffer of RD 2, Beloit, was maid of honor. Miss Janet Johnson of Sebring and Miss Pat Kelly of Alliance were bridesmaids.

The attendants' ballerina gowns were of emerald green nylon organza over taffeta with matching taffeta cummerbunds. They wore matching headpieces with circular veils. Miss Stoffer's cascade bouquet contained green and white carnations and trailing ivy, while the bridesmaids carried colonial bouquets of green and white carnations. Each wore a sweetheart rhinestone necklace, a gift from the bride.

John Staufenger of Alliance served as best man for his cousin. Albert Marini and Robert Berletich, both of Alliance, ushered.

The reception followed in the church dining hall. Green and white carnations encircled the three-tiered wedding cake, which was flanked by candelabra.

Mrs. Robert Miller of Alliance, an aunt of the bride, and the Misses Ruth and Lynne Beamer of New Philadelphia, nieces of the bride, served.

Miss Sunny Early of Beloit registered the 100 guests from Salem, Alliance, Sebring, Beloit, Cleveland, New Philadelphia, Louisville and West Virginia.

The bride is a June graduate of Goshen High School and is employed by the Bonney Forge and Tool Works in Alliance. Mr. Dolan, who served in the Army four and a half years during the Korean conflict, is employed by the Alliance Machine Co.

For traveling to an undisclosed honeymoon destination, the bride wore a two-piece print dress with black accessories and the corsage from her bridal bouquet.

When they return from their wedding trip, the newlyweds will reside at the Maple Rest Trailer Court.

Gifts were presented to the attendants at the rehearsal party held in the bridegroom's home on Thursday night.

Mrs. Richard Jay Powell

Mrs. A. W. Kiliman sang "I Love Thee," "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer." Homer Taylor presided at the organ.

Mr .Wuchter escorted his daughter to the altar and gave her in marriage.

She wore a floor - length wedding gown of white Chantilly lace. The basque bodice was designed with a scalloped neckline and long fitted sleeves. Her waist - length veil of silk illusion was attached to a matching cap embellished with sequins. White mums and ferns were combined in the showered bouquet which she carried with her white Bible.

Mrs. Russell Ochkie of Leetonia was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Connie Wolf of Wadsworth, Miss Mary Lou Menichelli of Salem, Mrs. Thomas Cooke of Jackson, Mich.; a cousin of the bride, and Mrs. Richard Cope of Leetonia, the bridegroom's sister.

Richard Lee Cope of Leetonia served as best man for his brother-in-law. Don Mercer of Alliance, Jim Wuchter of Cleveland, Edwin Knoedler of Salem and Jess Galbreath of North Georgetown ushered.

A reception was held in Fellowship Hall at the church. The refreshment table was centered with a three-tiered round wedding cake which was decorated in white and yellow and garlanded by greenery, white mums and white doves.

By MARY FLITCRAFT

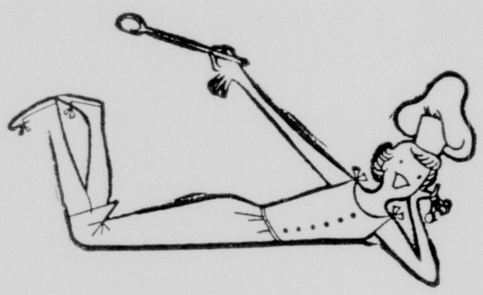

THE NATURAL LOOK

Hair styles this fall and winter will emphasize the American girl or natural look. This is on the authority of the hair fashion committee of the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association. Your fall "do" must be manageable, adaptable and feminine. There is an emphasis on undefined waves and free and easy movement. This is controlled with individually prescribed professional permanent waving.

progress of the freeway which would link Ashtabula and East Liverpool were representatives of four counties.

The association, organized in January, 1958, is composed of auto clubs, chambers of commerce and other civic groups in Ashtabula, Trumbull, Mahoning and Columbiana Counties. They are attempting to secure better transportation routes throughout eastern Ohio.

Plans are expected to be ready for bidders by the first of the year on one section of Rt. 11 (Lake-River Rd.), according to Al Katsch, Division 4 engineer. That stretch of highway will run from one mile south of Route 1 (Conneaut to Cincinnati freeway) in Ashtabula County to just north of Rt. 20.

By the spring of 1960 Kasch said, another portion, from north of Rt. 20 to the harbor (Ashtabula) will be ready for bidding.

A third section, running from Rt. 224 to relocated Rt. 18, scheduled in the 1961-63 program of the highway department, will be off the drawing boards a little early, he added.

Division 4, which has charge of most of the work north of Salem, will have the plans ready for bidding by July 1, 1961, which is the earliest time that highway construction funds will be available, Kasch told the dozen-plus members at the meeting.

Another link in the Lake-River highway, construction of the road between relocated Rt. 18 andRt. 82, will be done after the 1962-63 program.

Kistyshak explained to the association members his men are trying "to eliminate the worst spots in existing roads while planning new roads." Due to a shortage of funds, about $50 million, the State Highway Department will slow down construction of new roads. However, planning for additional highway improvements will continue, he said.

In approximately a year, the highway department's funds are expected to increase as revenue from taxes levied this year begins to flow into the state's treasury, he said.

The meeting of the River-Lake Highway Assn. was attended by A. P. Morris, a member of the board of directors, and Ronald Leigh, executive secretary of the Salem Area Chamber of Commerce. East Liverpool attorney Francis H. Lang president, presided.

'Slow Pitch' League Also May Be Formed

By DICK BRAUTIGAM

An eight-team Columbiana County Softball League is being organized to begin operation in 196, with squads from Salem, East Liverpool, Lisbon, East Palestine and Beloit already definite entries.

Representatives from each of these cities except East Palestine met in the Memorial Building at Salem Tuesday night to discuss entry fees, umpires, scheduling and playing fields.

Tentative plans call for each team to meet its seven league opponents twice during the season, once at home and once on the road. The winning team would receive a trophy. There would be no post season playoffs.

One stipulation for entry in the league is that each team must have a home field on which to play.

-:-

C. F. TOMLINSON, superintendent of parks and recreation here, is one of the organizers of the County League. Tomlinson reports that he is considering limiting entries in Salem's Class A and AA Leagues to teams from the city next year. Both leagues were heavily populated this season with out-of-town squads.

Tomlinson says he has plans for opening a "slow pitch" league in Salem which will cut down on the time that Kelley Park, the city's only lighted softball field, will be available for fast pitch leagues.

"It's about time we start using our parks for the recreation of Salem people," Tomlinson stated. "We need a slow pitch league for those who are too old for fast pitch but still want to play softball. It seems to me that a county league is your solution for taking care of out-of-town teams," he added.

ATTENDING THE COUNTY League meeting from Salem last night was Dave Brisken, Columbiana County commissioner for the Amateur Softball Association. Brisken will manage Herron Transfer, Salem's entry in the new league.

East Liverpool has two entries. One of the teams will be sponsored by American Vitrified Products and managed by John Eckstein. Jim Tice will manage the other East Liverpool squad which is still negotiating for a sponsor.

The East Palestine Merchants will be headed by Dale Hughes and Bob Shoff. The Beloit Merchants (Mahoning County) was represented last night by Jim Weizenecker and Bill Mangrum.

LISBON SENT Jack Jackson to represent its entry, which as yet does not have a definite sponsor.

Herron's, Beloit and Lisbon all played in Salem leagues this season. Beloit finished second during the regular season and won the Class AA playoffs. Lisbon (Mark's Landing) was both the season and playoff champion in Class A.

Besides the present six entries, two more teams will be added to the County League. Possible entries are another Salem team, Kensington, Leetonia, Columbiana, Hanoverton and Sebring.

Any teams interested in joining the new league are asked to attend the next meeting scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Oct. 7 at the Salem Memorial Building or write Dave Brisken at 716 Morris St., Salem.

Cubs Edge Giants 5-4

Braves Turn Back Bucs 5-3; Cards Defeat Dodgers 11-10

By The Associated Press

Remember the last time the National League had a three-team fight for the flag? It was 1956 and in the final week fourth-place St. Louis crashed Milwaukee out of it while the Dodgers stepped over seventh-place Pittsburgh to the pennant.

Cincinnati was the third club in on that down-to-the-wire race, finally given the gate by the Chicago Cubs to finish third, two games shy.

The Braves have breezed to two flags since then, and now, driving for a rare third in a row, they've surged into a one-game lead, beating fourth-place Pittsburgh 5-3 Tuesday night while seventh-place St. Louis jarred the Dodgers out of a first-place tie by battering Los Angeles 11-10.

In keeping with that pennant pattern of three years ago, third-place San Francisco plunged two games behind with a 5-4 loss to the Cubs.

Each of the contenders has four games left. All finish the current series today. Then the Braves go home for a three-game weekend series with last-place Philadelphia while the Dodgers shift to Chicago and the Giants switch to St. Louis in the final run to decide who plays the Chicago White Sox in the World Series a week from today.

Milwaukee's late surge to become the first three-in-a-row NL winner since the Cardinals of 1942-43-44 now has given the Braves a four-game streak and 13 victories in their last 15games.

To do it, they had to stand off a ninth-inning Pirate rally for the second night in a row. Lefty Juan Pizarro (6-2) beat the Bucs a third time after building a 4-1 cushion with a two-out, two-run double as the Braves scored three in the seventh off Harvey Haddix (12-12).

Reliever Don McMahon finally nailed it, giving up a pair of scoring singles by Smoky Burgess and Don Hoak before striking out pinch-hitter Rocky Nelson for the final out.

Andy Pafko doubled and John Demerit, replacing injured Bill Bruton in center field, beat out a bunt single for the Braves in the clinching seventh. Then, after Del Crandall, who had hit his 21st homer in the fifth, hit into a doubleplay and Felix Mantilla got an intentional pass, Pizarro sliced his double just inside the left field line. Bobby Avila, who tripled in the first and scored on Hank Aaron's fly, then singled in the final run off Haddix.

Milwaukee took more than a percentage-point lead for the first time since June 30 as the Cardinals went to work on the Dodgers. Los Angles, making it close on rookie Frank Howard's pinch-hit, three-run homer in the ninth, chased nemesis Larry Jackson in the first inning, but blew 3-0 and 6-4 leads.

Hal Smith bombed starting Dodger southpaw Sandy Koufax with his first grand-slam homer in the first inning. After Gil Hodges' two-run, 24th homer gave the Dodgers the 6-4 edge in the third, the Cards came back with five runs in their half of the third. Curt Flood's three-run homer set it off against losing reliever Chuck Churn (3-2). Joe Cunningham singled in the tying run in the frame and a double by ex-Dodger Gino Cimoli scored the lead run.

The Cardinals won it with two runs in the fifth, getting the clincher on an error by Carl Furillo on Cimoli's RBI single.

The Giants dropped their fourth in a row on a two-run, two-out homer by rookie George Alman in the ninth. It came off Sad Sam Jones, working in relief and tagged with his 15th defeat, third in a row since winning his 20th. Don Elston (9-8) was the winner in relief, coming on in a two-run eighth when the Giants, who left nine men on base, scored twice for their only lead, 4-3.

The Cubs took fifth place with the victory as Cincinnati fell to sixth with a twi-night doubleheader loss at Philadelphia, 3-1 amd 3-2.

In the other AL games, New York beat Washington 8-4, Detroit defeated Kansas City 6-4 and Boston beat Baltimore 4-3.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By RUFUS LIDE

Last Friday, 140 eastern chain pickerel were placed in Zepernick Lake in addition to the previous stocking. These fish were in excellent shape and varied in size from 6 to 11 inches in length although they were all hatched at the same time last May.

Breeder eastern chain pickerel were stripped of their eggs last April and in turn the eggs were fertilized and hatched in May in the state hatchery at Meyers Lake in Akron.

I asked Jerry Mantz, one of the state fish management agents, how he could account for the variance in sizes.

He said it could compare to people. For instance, I weigh 150 lbs. and am much older than he is, yet he weighs 180 lbs. Maybe we both eat the same thing, yet, there is a difference in people the same as there is in fish.

ONE THING so outstanding about these fish is that they actually eat each other. Originally, there were 5,000 eastern chain pickerel placed in the same rearing pond. An attempt was made earlier in the summer to lower the water in the rearing pond in order to take the fish out and remove them to the waters on the agenda to be stocked.

It so happened the water temperature was too high and the fish began showing signs of weakening and would no doubt have died if the removal operation had not been stopped. So the removal operation was delayed through necessity and the rearing pond was allowed to refill with fresh water.

In the final analysis, the original 3,000 pickerel had reduced themselves to only 140, which is an outstanding example of "survival of the fittest."

-:-

SOME PEOPLE wonder why the state doesn't stock mature muskies, northern pike, pickerel and even bass. Any canabilistic fish cannot be reared to maturity in a small rearing pond. If the pond is allowed to stand as is without any fish removal, the final result would be the survival of the fittest or one or two fish that could not eat each other.

In a large expanse of water the cenibalixtic or predator fish cannot get at each other and as a result more fish survive and the number of mature fish increases.

I know of some instances of private pond owners that stock channel cats, walleyes, trout, bass and northern pike, all in a small body of water. Certainly this is not good fish management practice although I do not discount the value of increasing the catch which might be good business to induce the anglers to try their luck. It would also increase the revenue taken in at the gate.

BIOLOGICALLY, it is unsound. To keep catchable size fish in a 1 to 10 acre pond would require annual stocking while the "battle royal" goes on beneath the surface. That would be detrimental regardless of who owns the pond and would not provide good fishing once the annual stocking has ceased.

It is against the law of nature to mix unfriendly people with each other when people are supposed to be human beings, able to think for themselves, live and let live while the few cannibals on this earth are certainly in isolated spots of the uncivilized nature that live according to prehistoric rules.

Fish are not human beings and not accountable for their actions. So it is up to fish technicians to provide the most compatible home for the fish, provide the needed predators to keep down the undesirables and at the same time produce fish that make the fishermen happy. This is not easy.

Progress has been made introducing new fishes and game fish to inland waters where they never existed before. One thing is sure; it was not done by guesswork.

McCormack Back at Spot For Browns

CLEVELAND (AP)—Mike McCormack moved into his spot at right offensive tackle Tuesday as the Cleveland Browns worked out at League Park for their season open against the Pittsburgh Steelers Saturday night.

It was the first workout for the team captain since he suffered a knee injury at the Hiram training camp nearly two months ago. He said the knee, operated on early last month, felt good after the practice session.

"It made the fellows feel great just to see Mike back in there," said Coach Paul Brown. "He was busting away just like he used to.

"We won't throw him into any full scale action right away but it's great to have him so close to being ready. Mike is a big part of the heart and soul of our football."

Jim Shofner and Ray Renfro, injured in the victory over the Chicago Bears, also worked out Tuesday—Shofner at right defensive halfback and Renfro at flanker. Warren Lahr, also injured in last Saturday night's game, took it easy but expects to be ready for the Steelers.

Frank Geremia, a tackle from Notre Dame, took part in the early drilling, but was on the sidelines when Brown drilled the offensive unit in preparation for the visit to Pittsburgh.

Geremia, one of the best college linemen in the nation last fall, was drafted by the San Francisco 49ers, but wasn't claimed when his name appeared on waivers last week. If he is signed by the Browns it will mean that someone must go as the club is now at the 36-player limit.

Ingrum May be Ready To Replace White

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio State football coach Woody Hayes is optimistic that Mike Ingram may be ready to step in at fullback for injured Bob White.

The Bellaire sophomore ran well at the post in Tuesday's drill, Hayes said. White was on the sidelines again and it was not known if he'd scrimmage today.

Hayes is now tapering off sessions in preparation for Saturday's game with Duke.

Staley Stops Indian Rally

Power Hits Into Double Play

The White Sox did it.

They did it like champs, clinching that long-awaited American League pennant in their final meeting with the one club that could snatch it from them.

They did it with a 4-2 victory over the second-place Indians at Cleveland Tuesday night, hauling in Chicago's first AL flag since 1919. They did it not with their magic singles, but with power—a pair of scoring doubles by Luis Aparicio and Billy Goodman, and successive sixth-inning home runs by Al Smith and Jim Rivera.

They did it with pitching and defense. Early Wynn, the old man the Injuns didn't want, won his 21st, getting relief help from young Bob Shaw, the right-hander Detroit didn't want, and Gerry Staley, the reliever nobody wanted.

Staley, like Wynn a 39-year-old right-hander, wrapped it up, making his 65th trip from the bullpen this season in the ninth inning with one out and the bases loaded. With one pitch it was all over.

Vic Power swung at that first pitch of Staley's, Aparicio gobbled it up at short, stepped on second and threw to first for the Sox' fourth doubleplay, the doubleplay that ended 40 years of waiting.

The victory gave the White Sox a 4½-game lead over the Indians, who have but four games to play. The Sox have three left—before playing the opening game of the World Series in Chicago's Comiskey Park a week from today.

In the National League Milwaukee's surging Braves, driving for a third straight flag, jumped into a one-game lead with a 5-3 victory at Pittsburgh. Los Angeles tumbled out of a first-place tie with an 11-10 loss at St. Louis, third - place San Francisco fell two games behind, losing 5-4 to the Cubs at Chicago. Each of the contenders has four games left.

The White Sox, who had lost two in a row as their pennant push sputtered, whipped the Indians 15-7 for the season. This one climaxed a drive that began with a four-game sweep at Cleveland in late August. They won nine of the 11 games they played at the Indians' park.

In the other AL games, New York whipped Washington 8-4, Detroit beat Kansas City 6-4 and Boston defeated Baltimore 4-3. Philadelphia swept a twi-night pair from Cincinnati, 3-1 and 3-2, in the other NL action.

Gave Bedford Rough Time

Quakers Will Meet Tough Raven Team

It's not likely that Ravenna, Salem's football opponent at Reilly Stadium Friday night, will be too frightened at reports of the Quakers' big and highly touted line.

The Ravens more than held their own for the first half against an even bigger line in their game at Bedford last week. Ravenna dropped the game 18-8 but the contest was much closer than the score indicates.

Operating against a Bedford line that averaged 205 pounds per man, Ravenna still managed to outcharge its heavier opponent consistently in the first half. The Ravens left the field at intermission with an 8-6 lead.

In the third quarter Ravenna started another long drive which stalled on Bedford's seven yard line. Raven Coach Buchman says this was the turning point of the game. Buchman claims his crew ran out of steam as the big Bedford weight advantage began to take its toll of tiring Ravens.

-:-

BEDFORD REVERSED the drive and turned it into a touchdown of its own. The up-staters scored their final touchdown in the last minute of the game. In the statistics, everything was close except the score and first downs. Bedford picked up 13 first downs to Ravenna's seven.

Physically, the Ravens came out of the game with nothing worse than a few bumps and bruises.

Their line-up against Salem on Friday will include six letterwinners, all but one of whom were considered starters last season. The returning regulars are Tackle Bob Laubert, 175, senior; guard Bill Simon, 165, senior; center, Bruce Kastor, 185, senior; quarterback, Jon Hay, 175, senior; and halfback, Fred Thomas, 150, junior. The sixth letterwinner from the 1958 squad is End Jerry Kapusta, 165-pound junior.

Other starters Friday will be End Bruce Parry, 145, junior; Tackle Wayne Minor, 150, junior; Guard Dan Windrum, 165, senior; fullback, Miles Friend, 150, junior; and halfback Mark Metcalf, 150, junior.

Simon and Hay are co-captains.

ON DEFENSE Minor comes out of the line-up and Kapusta moves from end to fill Minor's tackle spot. Roy Dunckel, 170, junior, enters the game at end. Dunkel can also play offensive tackle and end.

Coach Buchman alternates Friend and Hay in the quarterback and fullback slots. Against Bedford there were times in the game when the two switched positions on nearly every play. The same switching tactics are employed at the guard and tackle positions.

Hay is the team's best passer. He was on the mark on several occasions against Bedford but his receivers were not hanging on to the ball. Left halfback Thomas dropped at least three tosses that were in his arms.

Ravenna's number one reserve is tackle Mike Mastromatteo, 195-pound senior. The big tackle would probably be a regular except for the fact that he has proved to be injury prone. He is reported ready to play against Salem.

-:-

THE RAVENS LIKE to run up the middle where their outstanding lineman, Center Bruce Kastor, has a reputation of opening big holes for the backs. He's rated the most rugged man on the squad.

The backs have only fair speed. Against Bedford, "Tyke" Friend got away on a 50 yard jaunt but was pulled down from behind.

Buchman is in his second year as coach at Ravenna. His team posted a record of 4 wins, 4 losses and a tie last season. One of the losses was a 34-0 drubbing at the hands of Salem in a game played at Ravenna.

The Ravens operate from a straight T-formation with a flanker. Being light, the line averages 165 pounds and the backs 156. Ravenna is relying on scrappiness and determination to keep them in the game against Salem Friday.

Oklahoma Rates Nod Over Northwestern In TV Game

NEW YORK (AP)—Those scientists Nikita Khrushchev always is talking about did hit the moon with one of their rockets. But could they score a touchdown? The Soviet visitor should take an hour or two off this weekend and see how its done.

The scoring will be done in about this fashion:

Louisiana State over Texas Christian: The Louisiana Tigers have been voted the nation's best and their ace is Billy Cannon. He'll have to live up to his name to pierce that tough Texas line.

Oklahoma over Northwestern: This could be Oklahoma's best team in recent years. It will have to be to get past Northwestern, the Big Ten's No. 1 darkhorse. This will be on your TV screen.

Southern California over Pittsburgh: This is a Friday night affair.

Princeton over Rutgers: These two teams started this football business almost a century ago and this is their 50th encounter. Rutgers has won only five and never two in a row. Princeton lost 28-0 a year ago.

Iowa over California: The Rose Bowl rivals of last January meet earlier this season but the result will be about the same.

Syracuse over Kansas: The Easterners are powerful and need only a quarterback to be great.

Wisconsin over Stanford: Dale Hackbart, Badger quarterback, can run, pass and kick.

Auburn over Tennessee: The Auburn line will shackle famed Billy Majors, the Vols' wheelhorse.

Notre Dame over North Carolina: The George Izo to Monty Stickles battery should add to the North Carolina woes. But it will be close with Jack Cummings in the hero's role.

Indiana over Illinois: A rare Big Ten victoy for the Hoosiers.

Texas over Maryland: The middle of the Texas line is solid with Rene Ramirez the star of the backfield.

Wyoming over Air Force: The graduation losses of the Falcons were heavy. Wyoming on the way back to the top of the Skyline loop.

West Virginia football coach Art Lewis coached the professional Cleveland Rams in 1937 when he was 26 years old.

Gordon Out, Harder Now Tribe Chief

CLEVELAND (AP) — Joe Gordon was out today as Cleveland manager with four games still left on the Indians' schedule. General Manager Frank Lane said he hoped to name the 1960 Cleveland pilot soon, perhaps before the week is over.

The leading candidate appears to be Leo Durocher, who quit a $65,000 job with the National Broadcasting Co. earlier this month to return to baseball where he piloted three National League pennant winners.

So leading, in fact, is Durocher's candidacy that other names — among them Fred Hutchinson of Cincinnati and Charley Dressen of Los Angeles — have come in for scarcely more than a mention.

For the rest of the season Mel Harder, veteran pitching coach, will manage the Indians. The four remaining games with Kansas City here starting Friday will be used to test the club's rookies. Tuesday night's 4-2 loss to Chicago mathematically eliminated the Indians, and the team has had second place sewed up for some time, so this weekend's games mean nothing to the standing.

Monday Night League Opens Bowling Season.

Eight teams in the Monday Night Scratch League opened their bowling season this week at Saxon Lanes.

Sponsors of the teams are King Kone, Meissner Sunoco, Saxon Lanes, Gordon Scott's Sports, Salem Label, Hendron's Tavern, Fuller Brush and Old Dutch Beer.

High individual scorer for one game was Gordon Scott who rolled a 225. Following Scott were John Hendron, 214 and Frank Durst, 209. High individual three-game honors went to Hendron, 578, Scott, 576 and Gus Falk 559. High team for three games was Scott's with a 2513.

By The Associated Press

Hitting—George Altman, Cubs walloped two-out, two-run homer in the ninth, his third consecutive hit, crushing pennant - hopefu Giants 5-4.

Pitching—Gerry Staley, White Sox, came on with bases loaded and one out in the ninth and with one pitch saved clincher that gave Chicago first American League pennant in 40 years, getting Vic Power on doubleplay ball for 4-2 victory.

Ingo, Patterson May Meet Again Early Next June

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The return heavyweight fight between champion Ingemar Johansson and Floyd Patterson will be staged in Philadelphia' Municipal Stadium next June 7, providing two conditions are met, The Associated Press learned today.

A reliable source close to the Pennsylvania State Athletic Commission said that 'according to Vincent Vellela we'll get the fight." Vellela is a director of Rosensohn Enterprises Inc., which was associated in the promotion of last June's match when Johansson dethroned Patterson.

But the source, who did not want to be identified, made it quite clear that Philadelphia would take the fight only if "Vellela and his group come out clean in the current investigation by the New York State Athletic Commission on the promotional angles of last June's fight.

"And a subsequent investigation by the Pennsylvania State Athletic Commisions turns out okay."

Johansson signed last Aug. 25 to defend his title in a return bout with Patterson. But at the time it was only specified that the bout would be held in the United States between next March 1 and June 15.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson takes off today for a trade and good will trip that will take him into the Soviet Union, Yugoslavia and Poland.

Knox Sewage Proposal To Be Aired Tonight

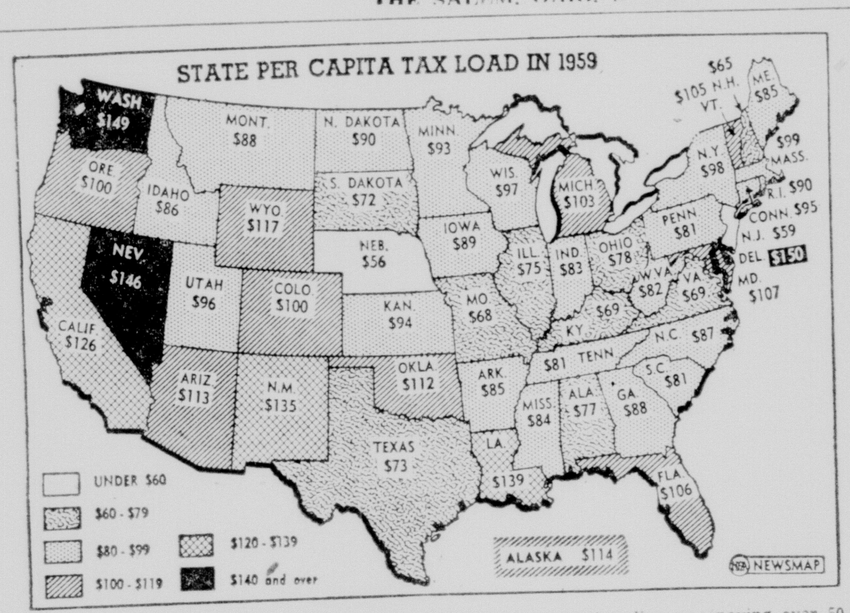

LISBON — Columbiana County commissioners will meet this evening with Knox Township residents in the northeast section of Columbiana County in the Alliance Council chambers to get public reaction to a proposed sanitary sewer extension proposed by the city of Alliance.

The meeting will start at 8, according to R. Max Gard, chairman of the county commissioners.

Plans were presented to officials of Stark, Columbiana, and Mahoning counties last month by Alliance officials who are building a new sewage disposal plant.

Estimated cost of the extension is $1,075,800 of which Stark County would pay $527,800; Mahoning County, $341,500; Columbiana County, $153,600; and the city of Alliance, $52,900.

The enlarged sewage system would serve an estimated 634 acres in Knox Township, commissioners said.

THE STATE OF TAXES — Americans, no matter in what state they live, are paying over 50 per cent more in state taxes than they did 10 years ago. The national average during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1959, reached an all-time high of $91.70 per person, compared with about $60 in 1950. Figures for the individual states (see Newsmap above) ranged from $56 in Nebraska to $150 in Delaware. Forty-three states registered increases during the year while only six showed decreases. Total state tax collections in fiscal 1959 was $15.8 billion. When local taxes are included, this figure is doubled. Data from Commerce Clearing House.

Over 500 Scouts Expected At Camporal Over Weekend

LISBON — Plans are being completed to handle an all-time record attendance for a Boy Scout activity in Columbiana County this weekend.

Boy Scouts totaling over 500 will camp at the McKinley Scout Reservation, participating in the fall camporal. The weekend will be spent in inter-troop contests, including canoe racing, fire building, string burning, water boiling, log chopping, log sawing and relay games.

Two campfire programs are scheduled. The Saturday night campfire programs will include Indians, troop skits, a membership round-up kickoff and other activities. Hurricane Warnings Out In Southwest

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—An Atlantic hurricane lumbered north-northwestward today, far offshore but with rising fury that bid for attention all along the Southeastern seaboard.

The U.S. Weather Bureau predicted Hurricane Gracie would pass northeast of Eleuthera Island, in the Bahamas, at noon. Eleuthera is 275 miles east of Miami. The storm, with 100-mile peak winds expected to increase slightly, would roughly parallel the Florida coast if it stayed on the course reported by hurricane hunter planes.

The Weather Bureau said Gracie's forward movement of eight miles an hour would not endanger the southeastern United States today.

Shore folk from Florida to the Carolinas were advised to keep in touch with Weather Bureau reports. Small craft warnings flew on much of the Florida Peninsula.

While Gracie whirled northward, south Florida remained in the grip of another kind of storm —a four-day nor'easter during which one fisherman apparently died and seven others were missing.

The resolution was sponsored by Democratic national committeeman Bernard L. Boutin, a candidate for governor.

Morton Eyes Nixon, Rockefeller Ticket

TRENTON, N. J. (AP)— The Republican national chairman says a Nixon and Rockefeller ticket would be the best the Republicans could offer in 1960.

Chairman Thruston B. Morton, who is also U.S. senator from Kentucky, told a news conference here Tuesday, "I can't think of coupling two better fellows than those two."

Asked if he thought Vice President Richard M. Nixon and New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller would battle over the presidential nomination, Morton said, "I have no choice except to assume a contest."
